ABSTRACT

This partially annotated bibliography on simulation and gaming contains over 1,000 citations arranged alphabetically by author's last name. Types of sources included are books, periodical articles, dissertations, and material in the ERIC system. Dates of citations range from 1956-1971 with most in the mid to late 60's. Also included is a list of four professional organizations concerned with simulation/gaming, and a list of centers for the study of simulation/gaming. (OPH)
